Dresser & Associates, BHE Consulting, and Net DirXions Form Strategic Alliance

An alliance created to expand service offerings to clients.

(Scarborough, Maine) - The management teams at BHE Consulting, Net DirXions and Dresser & Associates announced a new strategic business alliance to offer additional and complementary business solutions to all clients. With offerings covering ERP software, managed IT services, and Human Resource Management applications, clients of all three firms will benefit from a cohesive, integrated approach to their business management systems. This newly formed alliance will complement each organization's current offerings and provide a streamlined experience for each of their respective clients.

As businesses evolve and their needs and challenges change, BHE Consulting, Net DirXions, and Dresser & Associates recognize the demand for a multitude of services and technology solutions. Mark Dresser, President of Dresser & Associates, states, "Our formal alliance enables clients to reduce risk, cut costs, and align business needs with business processes to improve operational efficiency. We understand the demands clients and prospects have are much more in depth as technology continues to advance. Clients trust us and rely on our industry expertise to make recommendations for solutions that can support or streamline their processes as their business grows."

The alliance offers a full product suite to existing clients and future prospects – Enterprise Resource Planning, Information Technology solutions, and Human Resource Software. BHE Consulting, Net DirXions, and Dresser & Associates provide best-of-breed applications in their respective industries. The alliance brings 47 years of combined experience and knowledge in the business solution industry to the marketplace.

Many clients have established long-term relationships with staff from one of the organizations, which makes it easy for the clients to turn to their trusted advisors for recommendations with other business solutions. John Enright, Director of Business Strategy at Net DirXions, emphasizes the goal of 'easy navigation' between each business. "Mid-market companies struggle in three major areas; IT services, Back-Office (Finance/HR), and systems integration. We created this alliance around the unique needs of mid-market companies and challenges they face in today's information technology landscape. The experience and expertise of the companies forming this alliance will provide world-class solutions in consulting, financial applications, and leading IT and software platforms."

This strategic alliance has a clear understanding of each partner's organizations structure, policies and procedures. "Our goal is to make the transition as seamless as possible, ensuring every client receives that high level of service and attention we are all known for. The combination of our commitment to our clients and our service offerings is going to result in the best solution for our clients going forward," said Russ Carey, Vice President of BHE Consulting.
